

OLD TIME MUSIC CONCERTS AND DANCES SASKATCHEWAN TOUR MARCH 1-5, 2010

Northern Lights Bluegrass and Old Tyme Music is once again making its way through Saskatchewan this March and tour stops include Govan, Big River, Nipawin, Tisdale and Saskatoon.

The Society received funding from the Saskatchewan Arts Board and Canadian Heritage to take live old time music on the road for school workshops and evening community concerts and dances. These will be evenings of traditional old time music. In Saskatoon on Friday, March 5th there will be an old time dance (complete with late night lunch and cash bar) at St. Joe's Hall.

In the smaller towns, the evening begins with a concert starting at 7:30, so attendees get the chance to have a good listen to these three well-loved masters of multiple instruments. During the intermission, the chairs will be pushed to the sidelines, the dancing shoes will come on, and everyone will have the opportunity to start moving the toes they've been tapping since the night began. There might even be a square dance or two, crowd-willing.

Led by internationally renowned fiddler Gordon Stobbe who currently hails from the Maritimes but is originally from SK, the band also consists of JJ Guy (a professional fiddler and instructor from Lintlaw) and Troy MacGillivray (pianist and fiddler whose resumé includes gigs across North America). All three musicians have travelled Canada's coast to coast, teaching fiddling and dancing, and wowing audiences across the nation. Each speak of particularly enjoying their time in rural communities.
